

Courage for Cody

BUILDING A POSITIVE FUTURE

courageforcody.com

On a family skiing holiday in July 2014, 16-year-old Cody Gray suffered a fall that changed her life, and that of her family and friends, forever. Cody shattered the C5 and C6 joints in her neck and severed her spinal cord, leaving her with quadriplegia.

For a talented young sportswoman with an impressive Touch Football career underway at a national level, it was a devastating blow.

But with her typical strength, bravery and determination, Cody is already making huge inroads in her new life, in the toughest of challenges, with the support of parents Sharon and Mick, sister Riley, and an amazing group of family and friends.
